

Seaside Police Department

2016 Annual Report

A word from our Chief

Chief David Ham
23 Years

2016 presented a year of adversity and tragedy as we mourned the loss of Sgt. Jason Goodding who was killed in the line of duty on February 5th, 2016. We worked through the challenges that his loss presented to the department as well as other personnel losses due to retirement and attrition. These changes within the department are notable and have been difficult to manage, but out of the challenges of being shorthanded I am proud to say that our dedicated officers and dispatchers stepped up and provided the service to our community that the Seaside residents and visitors have come to expect and deserve. We have many new faces at the Seaside Police Department and we are happy to have them. Additionally, due to the departure of some supervisory staff, we have had internal promotions and the first line supervisory positions are as strong as they have ever been. The promotion of Lt. Bruce Holt has also been a positive for the department. His leadership within the department is encouraging and respected by our junior officers and dispatchers. Lt. Holt brings over 30 years of experience to this second in command position.

As you will see in the following pages concerning statistical information we are staying busy with calls for service, indicated by our case files taken for the year, while our overall Part I and Part II crimes tend to stay relatively the same, but showing a decrease in our overall percentage of reportable crimes. We are struggling with our in house computer system, specifically with how we are classifying some offenses, in addition to a new OUCR reporting change with the introduction of NIBRS (National Incident Based Reporting System), formerly UCR (Uniform Crime Reporting). These are some challenges we are working on to correct in an effort to make our reporting as accurate as possible.

A fast look back at 2016...

It was a year full of change and loss. To start the year, our patrol numbers were a little low. Then in February came the huge loss of Sgt. Jason M. Goodding who had been killed in the line of duty trying to serve his community by arresting a wanted subject.

In the days and months to come, it was time to get fully staffed by hiring new personnel. This was all taking place while a main core of 8 officers handled all the calls for service. Communication seemed better than it had been and a real bond had developed, not only within our department, but city wide.

With such an out pouring of community support, it was very refreshing and comforting. Many of our citizens were feeling the loss and sadness we were.

We are nearly full staffed and it's exciting to see where the new growth will take the department. Our values that we hold are professionalism, integrity, and service.

As our department continues to change and grow from the events of the past, we all must take time to remember our fallen friend. We must also reflect on the values which Sgt. Goodding portrayed as a police officer and trusted and active member of our community. He is certainly missed by many.

Communications staff

2016 was overall a good year. Your Seaside Dispatchers are doing a great job. They work hard every day to continue to learn what they need to know in this ever changing field. Being short staffed for quite a while now, they still continue to make sure our first responders and community are safe and informed.

As for myself, it was a year of great learning for me being new in the field and my role. I love taking on new, difficult challenges! There is still a long way to go, but feel I can lead the department with ease and am comfortable in that I know a great deal more than I did this time last year! I look forward to many more years with the Seaside Police Department!

Communications Manager

Dispatchers Earn Award

On Wednesday, October 19, 2016, the Seaside Police Department dispatchers received an award for their part during the loss of Jason Goodding. Andi and Heidi were in Sunriver at the APCO NENA conference to receive the award on behalf of the team, as they were the two on duty when Sgt. Goodding was shot in the line of duty.

During the time of our tragedy, patrol officers were relieved of duty allowing them personal time to deal with the loss of not only a close co-worker, but in a small agency, what we deem as a family member. When our Patrol Sergeant, co-worker and friend was killed in the line of duty, our dispatchers continued to perform their duties in the Communications Center. Our communications staff recognizes they know their equipment, 911 jurisdiction and community; they can and want to perform their tasks. Additionally, those dispatchers not scheduled to work and committed to their profession, reported to work just to support each other.
